A ROUGH HISTORY OF HARDCORE PUNK IN
OXNARD, CALIFORNIA AND SURROUNDING AREAS

This is by no means a definitive account of the history of Nardcore, but it's my honest take on trying to lay something down. Everyone's memories and stories differ a bit and I hope that someone builds off this project in the future.

*Skipped groove, tried and true with nothing to prove
Built with loyalty and nothing to lose
Living our lives by the words from Book and Its Cover
Our diversity taught us to love one another
And when I'm down & out feeling black and gray
It's hard to not think about back in the day
But the kids of today and the youth of tomorrow
They're grabbing the torch and they're taking it further*

I will never let it slip away

*Nardcore – Forever bonded together
Nardcore – Oxnard hardcore forever*

Respect to all those who laid the groundwork, and respect to all the new kids and future generations who will put their own stamp on this thing we built and love.

Nardcore 4 Life!

NARDCORE 1981-1986

Nardcore is simply a mash-up of the words "Oxnard" and "Hardcore." The story is one day, some dudes were listening to the album Hardcore '81 by D.O.A. and one of them said, "If this is hardcore, we're Nardcore!" The young scene now had an identity.

While Oxnard has been the center of this thing, Nardcore represents the hardcore punk scene in the surrounding areas as well – from Santa Barbara to Simi Valley. The thing kicked off in the early 80s, but there were two punk bands who played punk in the 805 in the 1970s.

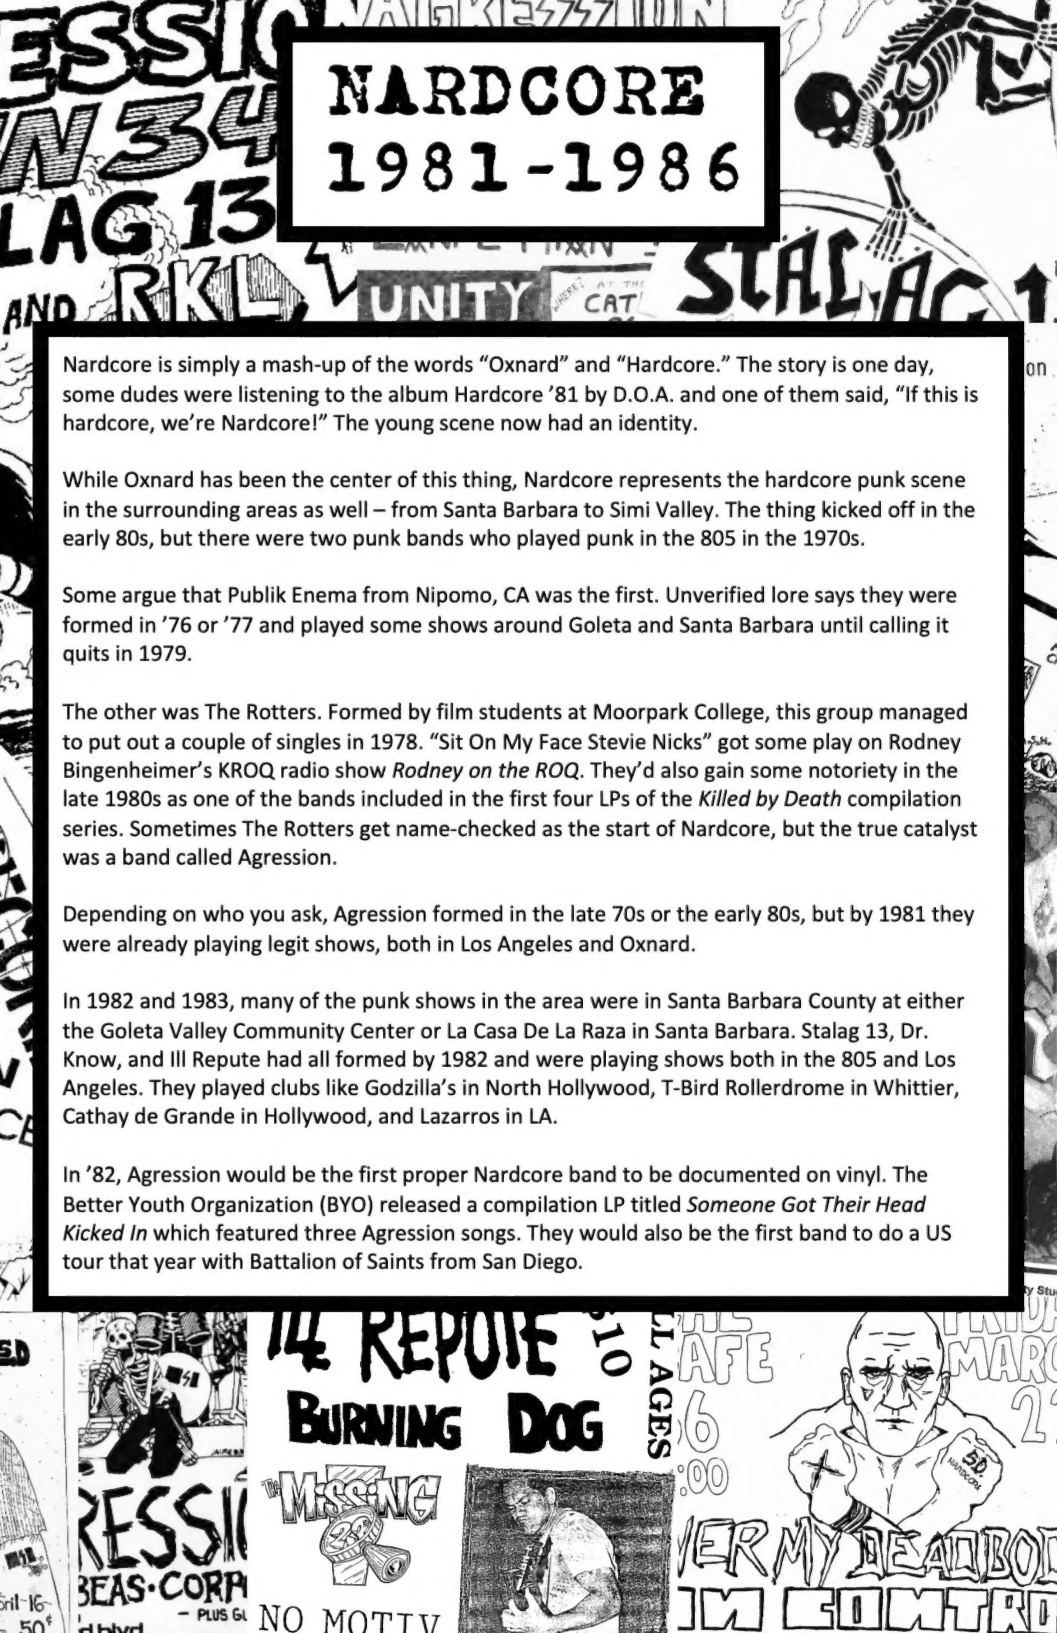

Some argue that Publik Enema from Nipomo, CA was the first. Unverified lore says they were formed in '76 or '77 and played some shows around Goleta and Santa Barbara until calling it quits in 1979.

The other was The Rotters. Formed by film students at Moorpark College, this group managed to put out a couple of singles in 1978. "Sit On My Face Stevie Nicks" got some play on Rodney Bingenheimer's KROQ radio show Rodney on the ROQ. They'd also gain some notoriety in the late 1980s as one of the bands included in the first four LPs of the Killed by Death compilation series. Sometimes The Rotters get name-checked as the start of Nardcore, but the true catalyst was a band called Agression.

Depending on who you ask, Agression formed in the late 70s or the early 80s, but by 1981 they were already playing legit shows, both in Los Angeles and Oxnard.

In 1982 and 1983, many of the punk shows in the area were in Santa Barbara County at either the Goleta Valley Community Center or La Casa De La Raza in Santa Barbara. Stalag 13, Dr. Know, and Ill Repute had all formed by 1982 and were playing shows both in the 805 and Los Angeles. They played clubs like Godzilla's in North Hollywood, T-Bird Rollerdom in Whittier, Cathay de Grande in Hollywood, and Lazarros in LA.

In '82, Agression would be the first proper Nardcore band to be documented on vinyl. The Better Youth Organization (BYO) released a compilation LP titled Someone Got Their Head Kicked In which featured three Agression songs. They would also be the first band to do a US tour that year with Battalion of Saints from San Diego.

Ill Repute's song "Clean Cut American Kid" would appear on the Rodney on the ROQ Vol. III compilation that came out in December of '82.

1983 saw Casa Tropical at the Oxnard Airport start doing shows. Oxnard was now playing host to some of the biggest punk bands of the time.

'83 also saw four notable releases:

1. Agression released their first LP, Don't Be Mistaken on BYO Records.
2. Ill Repute released their first 7", Oxnard - The Land of No Toilets on Mystic Records.
3. The We Got Power compilation LP came out on Mystic Records featuring Dr. Know, Ill Repute, and Stalag 13.
4. A compilation LP called Life is Beautiful So Why Not Eat Health Foods? came out on New Underground Records, featuring M.I.A. from Ventura.

1984 is generally considered the most prolific year for Nardcore. All the major bands put out new music this year.

1. Ill Repute released their 12" What Happens Next on Mystic Records.
2. Stalag 13 released their 12" In Control on Upstart Records.
3. Dr. Know released their 12" Plug In Jesus on Ghetto Way Records.
4. RKL released their 7" It's a Beautiful Feeling on Mystic Records
5. False Confession released their self-titled 7" on Mystic Records

Also, the Nardcore compilation LP was released on Mystic Records, featuring new tunes from Agression, Scared Straight, RKL, Ill Repute, Stalag 13, and more.

Casa Tropical stopped doing shows in '84, but Solid Gold at Wagon Wheel and the Town & Country Bar on Hueneme Road both had punk shows that year. Agression and Dr. Know both did US tours in '84.

1985 gave us more notable releases:

1. Dr. Know Burn 7" on Mystic Records
2. Agression S/T LP on Mystic Records
3. Rat Pack S/T 7" on Mystic Records
4. Scared Straight S/T 7" on Mystic Records
5. RKL Keep Laughing LP on Mystic Records

PRESENTING NARDCORE NIGHTS

In 1985, Ill Repute and Scared Straight went on tour together, with Scott Radinsky, the vocalist of Scared Straight, doing double duty – also playing drums for Ill Repute. The bands made it to Pittsburgh, where the van got jacked along with their equipment. The Nard Curse had made its first major appearance.

At this point, you may be asking what's this Mystic Records thing and what's The Nard Curse? They may be intertwined. Mystic Records was located at 6277 Selma Ave. in Hollywood. The studio was previously owned by Bob Keane where he ran Del-Fi Records. His breakout star was a young singer/songwriter named Ritchie Valens whose tracks "Donna" and "La Bamba" were smashes in 1958. Valens died in a plane crash in February of '59 at age 17.

In the mid 60's, Del-Fi was floundering but Keane found success with one of his sister labels, Mustang Records, which signed The Bobby Fuller Four and produced their hit "I Fought the Law" in 1965. Fuller was found dead in his car months later and Mustang Records folded the next year.

Doug Moody took over the studio in the 70's and recorded a bunch of rock, funk, and soul bands and singers. In 1980, he recorded a single for a punk band called Hey Taxi, that featured future Minutemen drummer George Hurley. In '82, the studio would have recording credits for Angry Samoans, Youth Brigade, and The Lewd, and that year Mystic put out a punk compilation called You Can't Argue With Success.

Now I don't know if the curse that followed Bob Keane from Del-Fi to Mustang then cursed Mystic and all the bands associated with it, but yeah, that's probably what happened. This curse then most likely traveled back to Oxnard with Ill Repute, in a box of Land of No Toilets 7"s and infected all the future punk bands to come out of the region. The Nard Curse was born and here to stay.

Curses aside, Moody helped a ton of young bands record and get records out. Whether bands were fairly compensated for their music depends on who you ask.

By 1986, things in the Nardcore scene were changing. Dr. Know and Stalag 13 were going more metal. Ill Repute slowed down. Tony and John experimented with a rap project, then John went off to guitar school.

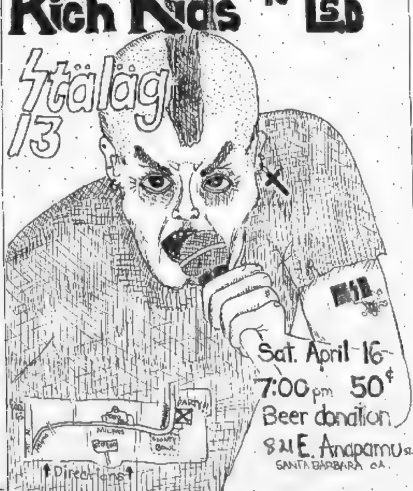

There were shows at the Officers Club at the Camarillo Airport, the Red Barn and People's Park in Isla Vista, and at the Skate Palace in Port Hueneme.

There were two fanzines out of Oxnard in the early & mid 80s. 60 Miles North Fanzine was started by Mike Rogers in 1983 and It's Alive Fanzine was started by Fred Hammer in 1986.

NARDCORE 1987-1993

1987 was a strong year for shows in Oxnard with the Oxnard Community Center doing a bunch of notable shows. There were also shows at the Officers Club at the Camarillo Airport, Skate Palace in Hueneme, and the Golden Eagle in Santa Barbara.

RKL released their LP Rock and Roll Nightmare and played lots of shows in California. They would tour Europe in '88 and '89, the first Nardcore band to do so.

Agression and Dr. Know both did tours in 1987. Agression's tour stretched into 1988, and when they broke down in Denver, they just chose to stay there. They would continue to play shows based out of Denver.

Scared Straight released their LP You Drink You Drive You Die in 1988. The following year their singer, Scott Radinsky, had a breakout year playing minor league baseball for the South Bend White Sox in Indiana. He was called up to the major leagues to play for the Chicago White Sox in 1990. He got to play for the Los Angeles Dodgers from 1996-1998.

Sometime in '88 or '89, Ill Repute went to demo some tracks at the new Mystic Studio down in San Diego County. Doug Moody would release these recordings as the Transition LP in 1989, without the band's permission.

Dodgers

SCOTT RADINSKY

ILL REPUTE TRANSITION

In late 1989, Numbskull Productions started doing shows at the El Tapatio club on Oxnard Blvd. In the late 80's, there were active bands who kept the scene going but didn't put out records. Some of these bands were:

- Irony, Leviticus, and Narthex Structure from Ventura
- Disordered Youth, Global Warming, Society Results, and Solemn Fate from Oxnard

There were also some speed metal bands that were a part of the scene like Global Chaos, Bold Decree, and Prime Evol.

In '91 and '92, Mogz and the Insomniac/Mayfair Theater in Ventura were having punk shows as well as La Fiesta on Oxnard Blvd., and the Anaconda in Santa Barbara. Like in the late 80's, there were bands who kept the scene alive but didn't put out records. Some of these bands were:

- Trip Master Monkey, Dignity, Thought Festival, and Stalefish from Oxnard
- Arch Enemy, Handsome Devils, and PSF out of Ventura

Some bands from Simi Valley were also important to the scene like Citizen Down, Red Fish, and Strung Out, who would go on to sign with Fat Wreck Chords and continue to tour and put out albums to this day.

Ill Repute played a lot in the early 90's, often headlining over bands that would go on to be household names. In 1993, they released their LP Big Rusty Balls on Dr. Strange records. There was a dispute where vocalist John Phaneuf was either kicked out, or left the band before they did a US tour that year in support of the record. They broke up that year...the year before punk exploded into the mainstream.

stalag 13

1994 saw a punk explosion with both Green Day and Offspring releasing platinum albums – the former on a major label, and the latter staying on their independent label, Epitaph Records.

The previous year, in 1993, RKL had gotten back together to release their LP Reactivate on Epitaph as well. In 1994, Epitaph would release their final LP Riches to Rags.

1994 also saw Ten Foot Pole release an LP on titled Rev on Epitaph. This band, previously known as Scared Straight, had put out their first album in 5 years the prior year, before quickly rebranding to Ten Foot Pole.

In 1994 a band called Phooey released their 7" The Call Girl Who Loved Dwarf. This was the first new Nardcore band to put out a piece of vinyl since Scared Straight or Rat Pack in 1985. They also put out an LP in 1995 called Monsters of Rock. The singer worked at a Record Outlet where bands would flyer shows, and people hung out to talk about music or whatever.

Dick Circus started in the summer of 1994 as a response to much of the violence at shows in the early 1990s – trying to make things fun again. It's Alive Records put out the Dick Circus 7", as well as the debut 7" from No Motiv. Their first show was also the last Dick Circus show. No Motiv played the "new school" style of punk, which was fast and melodic. They got a lot of kids into going to shows locally who were also fans of the current popular style of the Epitaph and Fat Wreck Chord bands.

Missing 23rd put out a demo in late 1995 and played their first show that December at Déjà Vu in Montalvo. Their sound was a throwback to the 1981 Washington D.C. sound. They were instantly one of the most popular bands in the area.

A whole scene of bands would rise up around the same time from Ventura such as The What Nots, Patient Zero, Exxon OD, The Goods, and The Unabombers. Of the bands from this scene, the Coat Hanger Kids put out a 7" in 1996, and Peter Pan's Army put out a 7" in 1997.

In 1995 and 1996, 3 bands emerged from South Oxnard and put out demos: Burning Dog/Clenched Fist/FAY. Two of these were also featured on the 1996 compilation LP on It's Alive Records titled Localism, which documented a ton of local bands in the area onto wax. It also featured new songs from Ill Repute, now with Tony on vocals, and Stalag, dropping the 13 from their name, back with a new singer. Pig Alley was also on this record and would release their LP the same year, titled Rock N Roll Mafiosi.

1996 also saw the birth of Edge Records, started by Joey Libke, one of the early Stalag 13 drummers. In 1996, Edge Records released:

- No Motiv Cynical CD
- Stalag Conviction CD
- Burning Dog Psycho Babble Ology 7"

Burning Dog also put out a CD on EDGE in 1997, titled Last Days, as did Ill Repute, who released their CD Bleed.

No Motiv signed with Vagrant Records and released their debut LP for that label titled And the Sadness Prevails in 1998. They pioneered a sound that they described as "sad-core" and would go on to be a national touring act for the next handful of years, touring with the likes of Alkaline Trio, Face to Face, Saves the Day, and Blink-182. They released two more full-lengths, Diagram for Healing in 2001 and Daylight Breaking in 2004.

Another band of the sad core genre was the Whereabouts who would release a demo and CD in the late 90s, and continue on into the 2000's putting out music and playing shows.

It should be noted that while there was a happening scene in the mid-90s, there wasn't a consistent venue in Oxnard or Ventura. Déjà vu changed their name to Horsehacks and had several shows but other than that there were no venues in Oxnard or Ventura that had longevity.

Much of the scene was based out of a club in Goleta, CA called The Living Room, which was an all-ages collective that was supportive of all types of underground music. There was also the Pickle Patch, a literal living room, in Isla Vista, CA.

The Living Room also had a recording studio, where engineer John Lyons would record local bands for a pittance. This was pivotal in getting Oxnard bands to put out records again. Phooey, Dick Circus, Burning Dog, and No Motiv all recorded records there.

In 1997, a hardcore band called Voice of Defiance formed and recorded their 7" Oxnard Hardcore Pride at the Living Room as well. That year, a laser tag business in Oxnard called Lazerstar started having shows in their party room. The following year, Stand Your Ground put out a demo and 7". Lazerstar was the home base for these bands, and the members and their friends put on shows featuring national and international acts, drawing big crowds.

There was also a bond fostered with some kids from Ojai who put on a handful of shows in a barn out there. Ojai would be critical for the scene in the early 2000s as well.

In 1999, Stand Your Ground and Voice of Defiance both broke up, and shows at Lazerstar struggled that summer.

In October of 1999, In Control released their demo and played their first show, which was also the final show at Lazerstar. In the year 2000, In Control released their first 7", The Nard Curse EP on Camel Clutch Records. There was nowhere to play locally that year, but they played over twenty shows outside of Ventura County in San Diego, LA, Bakersfield, and Northern California.

On August 8, 2000 Mark Hickey of Agression passed away. There was a large tribute show at the Ventura Theater to commemorate his passing.

The Missing 23rd released their 2nd LP CTRL ALT DLT in the year 2000 on Sessions Records and embarked on a two-month-long tour of the United States and Canada. Over the next few years, they would tour the US with GBH and the Circle Jerks, and become the first punk band from Oxnard to play Europe and Japan. They released their final CD The End of An Error and broke up in 2004.

In Control put out their first LP in 2001 titled Another Year on Indecision Records. They would follow it up in 2003 with their LP The Truth Hurts on Indecision and a self-titled 7" on Rivalry. Between 2001 and 2003, they did four DIY full US tours and did their best to put Nardcore back on the map at the national level. Their last show was on December 11, 2004 in Ventura.

Like the bond formed between the Oxnard and Ojai scenes in years prior, during these years a bond was formed between the Oxnard and Tehachapi scenes. Diehard Youth and later the Warriors would have crucial roles Nardcore scene. Ojai shined from 2001-2003, where the Ojai Women's Club was the most notable spot in Ventura County for punk shows.

Holier than Thou and Fields of Fire from Santa Barbara both put out records this year. Holier Than Though put out a self-titled 7" and an LP titled The Hating of the Guts on Six Weeks Records. Fields of Fire's first 7", The Kids Can't Be Bought, came out in the year 2000, and in '01 they followed it up with a CD titled Keep it Alive, as well as a full US tour with In Control.

Annihilation Time put out their first LP in 2002, and would join Fields of Fire on a US tour that summer. They returned in 2004 with their 2nd LP, aptly titled II, with a Jimmy Rose replacing Fred Hammer on vocals. It was recorded while overseas and was a success, gaining them worldwide acclaim.

There was a 20th anniversary Nardcore show at Skate Palace in Hueneme that devolved into chaos.

By the mid 2000's there were many subgenres of punk and hardcore music in the Nardcore scene. You had Vendetta, Violation, Downpresser, and Retaliate playing modern metal-influenced roots hardcore. You had the street punk scene with bands like The Last Priority. You had Annihilation Time and Blasting Concept channeling 70's rock through a stoney punk lens, while The Fucking Wrath was channeling a mix of Black Sabbath & Discharge. Then you had Char-Man who was channeling Chuck Berry as the Surfing Bird, and you also had Glass & Ashes, who were a part of the No Idea records scene that was bubbling up at that moment.

2005 saw Vendetta release their first self-titled CD. 2006 saw the release of Retaliate's first LP, along with the Violation demo, and the Downpresser demo. This was also the year the Warriors would release their 2nd LP, Beyond the Noise. They would become a national touring act and one of the biggest drawing hardcore bands in the 805 area.

Dry-Rot also released their first 7" in 2006. It was an early release on the Ventura-based label Cold Vomit that would put out a bunch of releases in the years to come. Dry-Rot would put out a handful of more releases themselves, including an LP in 2009 on Parts Unknown Records.

Vendetta released their 2nd CD in 2007, titled Time Will Tell, and Violation released a 7" called Possessed. Violation followed up the 7" with an LP titled Devoured the following year and would play shows on the East Coast.

2007 also saw The Fucking Wrath release their first LP Season of Evil, and Glass and Ashes put out their self-titled LP. They would both tour together that year. It also gave us the final release from Hit the Deck. That year they released their CD Walking Backwards, following up a self-titled 7" in 2003 and a CD called Look Alive in 2004. It should also be noted the guitarist of this band held gigs at a show space called Pat's Warehouse from 2001-2002 that hosted both local bands and national acts.

Downpresser put out a 12" called Perverved Justice in 2008 and followed up with two 7"s in 2009 - a split 7" with Creatures, and a 7" titled Age of Ignorance. Downpresser became one of the most significant bands to ever come out of the 805, putting out a slew of albums and doing many national tours.

Many of the shows in this era took place at the Alpine in Ventura. The Alpine was also the location of the 1st and 2nd installments of the Sound & Fury hardcore music festival.

(san fernando)

(nardcore)

In 2008, Dogends released their LP The Butcher, Total Resistance released their CD A Dying Scene, and Annihilation Time released their third LP – III – Tales of the Ancient Age.

In 2009, Tony Cortez along with Burning Tree Records released the Nardcore 30 Years Later compilation featuring the first Ill Repute song in over 10 years, the return of Dr. Know and Rat Pack, plus other bands like The Last Priority, Dogends, Keep Fighting, Retaliate, and Blasting Concept.

In 2009, In Control did a reunion show along with Ill Repute, The Warriors, Retaliate, Downpresser, Take Offense, and Cadence. The show drew over 800 kids and was a catalyst for many new kids getting into punk and hardcore in the area.

There were shows at a club called The Lab in El Rio.

Retaliate released their 2nd LP We Are One in 2009 and would play Sweden in 2010. In 2011, they released their 3rd LP – Thorns without a Rose.

2009 would see the release of the Rad 7" Sadist/Masochist and the Minus demo. Members of these two bands would also form Fell to Low. That band would release two 10"s and two 7"s over the next several years before putting out an LP on Revelation Records in 2015. Over the never couple years, Minus would release a S/T LP, a 7" titled Hard Feelings, and split 7"s with Soul Search and Warbrain.

Nails put out their first release in 2009, a 12" titled Obscene Humanity. They'd follow that with an LP, Unsilent Death and go onto to be one of the notable extreme music acts of the 2010's.

In 2010, Stop Breathing would release their self-titled 7". They would follow it up with a self-titled LP in 2012, and a 7" in 2013, before their final release in 2015. 2010 also saw the release of the self-titled Blasting Concept 12", the Dogends Pure Hate 7", and the Fucking Wrath LP Terra Fire.

2011 saw Shattered Badge form from the ashes of The Last Priority and put out an LP titled First Offense. 2011 also saw:

No Motiv – Winterlong 12"

Char-man – Burning the West LP

Blasting Concept – self-titled 7"

The Fucking Wrath – Valley of the Serpents Soul LP

2011 was also the year that El Rio power violence band Sordo released their first tape, a split with Cancer Patient out of Los Angeles. They would go on to put out more than 20 releases in the ensuing years.

Many shows in the early 2010s were at Rock City Studios, an all-ages club in Camarillo, CA. There were also a ton of shows at a bar in Ventura named Billy O's.

Some other significant places for shows in the early 2010s:

Fresh Mex in Oxnard
The Library in Carpinteria
Zoey's in Ventura

2012 gave us the debut CD from Out of Trust, titled Healthy Loud and Honest, as well as the self-titled 7" by Never Meant on Camel Clutch Records. It also gave us the first release from Messenger, a self-titled tape on Burger Records. They would go on to release a slew of releases on that label as well as tour the US and Europe.

In 2012, Trecherouskin released a 7" called Smother Earth, following up their demo the previous year. The following year, they'd release a split 7" with Nomads. Members later went on to form Dead Heat and join Downpresser and Twitching Tongues. 2012 was also the year Souvenirs released their first 7" titled Tired of Defending You. They would release three LPs over the next decade and tour nationally. Retaliante appeared on the debut episode of The Eric Andre Show.

2013 saw the first annual Nardfest take place at the Ventura theater. It returned again in 2014, and 2015. 2013 was also a busy year for death rock revivalists, Catholic Spit who released a 7", a split 7", and an LP that year.

In 2014, Covered in Scars released their Self-Titled CD on the Oxnard label, So This Is Progress. On April 7th, 2014 the mayor of Port Hueneme declared a proclamation recognizing the band Ill Repute for their achievements, and thus Ill Repute Day was born.

In 2015 Blasting Concept released an LP titled Sloth Rocket, Retaliante released a self-titled 7", and Constant Fear released their LP Dronekill.

NARDCORE 2016 - 2023

2016 saw Dead Heat release their demo and play their first show. In the ensuing years, they would become the most prolific Nardcore band in history, releasing multiple albums, touring the US, Europe, and Japan, and appearing at on almost every major domestic hardcore festival. They continue to put out music, inspire a new generation, and pound the pavement assuring the world that Nardcore is still alive.

In 2016, Ill Repute's song "Clean Cut American Kid" appeared in an episode of the TV show Stranger Things. 2016 also gave us a new self-titled Char-Man LP. They followed that up with an LP in 2020 called Power of the Night, and a 7" in 2022. They continue to consistently be one of the best bands out of the 805 and celebrated their 20th anniversary in 2023.

In 2017, 3 Day Holocaust released their LP Bred to Slaughter. 2017 was also the year that Civil Conflict formed. They started playing a ton of shows in 2018 inspiring a whole new generation of local kids to get into going to shows. They released Live Fast, Skate Faster in 2019 on It's Alive Records and Visions in 2022. In 2017, Stalag 13 toured Europe and in 2019 they toured Japan, making them the first of the original Nardcore bands to do so.

Omega Point put out their demo in 2018, then followed it up with a 2019 promo and a 2020 EP titled No Answer. The Tavern in Ventura started having some epic shows in 2018 and would continue through 2021. Cola Booy's first record, Black Boogie Nation, was released in 2018 on the French label Record Makers. He followed it up with an LP in 2021 titled Prosthetic Boombox on the same label.

2018 also saw members of Catholic Spit and Missing 23rd combine to form Detoxi. They'd do a demo in 2018, an LP titled First Flesh in 2019, and another 12" titled In Laughter in 2021. Members of Detoxi would then go on to join forces with members of Messenger to create Head Cut. Head Cut released a self-titled LP on Dune Altar in 2023.

Santa Barbara came out swinging in 2019 with new LPs from both Downpresser and Minus. Also that year, the Oxnard Community Center, now called the Oxnard Performing Arts Center, or OPAC started having punk and hardcore shows again. The Hong Kong Inn in Ventura was also host to a ton of shows from 2018 through 2020.

Slowbleed also put out their demo in 2019 and would follow up with an LP in 2022 on Creator-Destructor Records. Casa Agria released a beer called Slammin at the Club: A Clean Cut American Lager in June of that year. They would also put on sporadic shows in the upcoming years. The podcast 185 Miles South started in May 2019, featuring Joe Rivas on Episode 1.

In 2020, two Nardcore compilations were released. First, Stu Wilson along with FTK Records put out Reflections: a 90's Nardcore Compilation on cassette as well as digital. It featured 43 Nardcore songs from the 1990s, many of which were finally released on digital for the first time.

The other was the Nardcore 4 Life compilation on Indecision Records - an LP featuring 24 Nardcore bands releasing new songs, along with a digital bonus release of an additional 12 bands/songs.

In 2021, two veteran Nardcore bands released new LPs. Stalag 13 put out Fill in the Silence, and False Confession put out Resurrectionists.

Some other notable places for shows in Ventura in the mid and late 2010's:

The Library
The Garage
The Ventura Bike Hub

2020 gave us the release of the 4th Retaliate LP aptly titled IV, along with the In Time demo.

In Time would go on to put out a promo in 2021, before releasing a 12" titled Save Your Breath on Indecision records in 2023. They have been one of the most active 805 bands, playing all over.

Outwest also put out a 7" in 2020. They'd follow it up with tapes in 2021 and 2023 and would tour the West Coast in 2022.

This is the year the CFF started having shows. It is Oxnard's first consistent DIY all-ages venue in years. Also, Rapid Skate shop in Simi Valley started doing shows. Both venues are still going strong.

This was also the year that Torenna put out their first release Cerebellum Prison and Ceramic released their 1st demo. They'd put out several releases over the next couple of years.

Big Bob passed away on October 26, 2021. There was a show held at Ventura Theater in his honor.

Nardfest returned in 2022, and again in 2023.

Also in 2023, Torena released a 12" titled Evil Eyez on Daze Records. They followed up that record with runs on the east and west coasts and show no sign of slowing down.

This year Vendetta returned with their LP Death Grip on Indecision Records, and Dead Heat released a new 12" titled Endless Torment on Triple B records.

Find A Way Records released the self-titled Out of Trust LP, as well as a compilation of Burning Dog recordings from the '90s, including their 7" onto one LP.

A new generation is putting out music as well. Between 2022 and 2023, we saw digital releases from Crucial Thought, Bare Minimum, and Detach.

On August 5th, 2023, or 805 Day, many of the current bands converged at Perkins, a secret spot where shows have been done sporadically over the years. The show was powered by generators, there was no door charge, and all the members of the bands playing could be seen in the crowd supporting other Nardcore bands.

The scene is as alive as it has ever been.
